PRIOR WRITTEN NOTICE - REVOCATION OF CONSENT

To: _____
Parent(s)/guardian(s)/adult student

Re: _____
Student's name

Date: _____

The purpose of this prior written notice is to inform you that, while the district believes that your child continues to be in need of services, the district will stop providing special education and related services to your child based on your written revocation of consent.

Services to your child will be discontinued on : _____.

When you revoke (withdraw) consent for the continued provision of special education services for your child, the district may not challenge your decision using any formal dispute resolution options. The district must honor your revocation within a reasonable time after you have provided the district with the written revocation.

Once your revocation is effective, your child will no longer be considered a child with a disability for educational purpose. This means that your child will no longer be eligible to receive a free appropriate public education (FAPE) as defined under IDEA, and will no longer be entitled to protections he or she received when identified as a child eligible for special education.

Your child will be subject to all the same requirements that apply to general education students, such as academics, statewide and district-wide assessments, extracurricular activities, graduation requirements, discipline, and all other general education requirements.

Revocation of consent is not retroactive. Your child's records will not be amended to remove references to the receipt of special education and related services prior to your revocation of consent.

Other considerations of additional information:

A copy of Parental Rights –Regarding Special Education

Is enclosed is not enclosed with this notice.

Until the date the district discontinues services (as specified on this notice), your child has procedural protections under IDEA. Theses protections are explained in the Parental Rights-Regarding Special Education. If a copy of the Parental Rights-Regarding Special Education is not enclosed and you would like a copy, or you would like help in understanding the content, please contact:

Roxie Tumlin, Director of Special Education at 912-462-6612.
